This heading means a great deal, for it is no easy task to perfect every department of an establishment like ours, to handle the volume of trade that we have every reason to expect will be tendered to us this season. It is indeed gratifying to note the unusual increase in the volume of our business, and to say that we appreciate the confidence reposed in us, gives but a faint idea of our feelings. We regard the interest of every person that does business with us as ours, and will do everything in our power to protect them.

able person expects that, and wherever you find a merchant offering staple merchandise at less than cost, his object is to attract you to his store with a view of selling you something the value of which you are not familiar with, and make up his loss on the leading article, as well as a comfortable profit on the other items. Nothing of that character will be tolerated in this store; we despise it. Our business is based upon a legitimate percentage of profit, and that figured on as close a basis as is consistent with intelligent merchandising. It is true, we sometimes sell goods at and below cost, but that only occurs at the end of a season, or when we have erred in buying something that did not prove to be as good a seller as we expected, or bought too freely of certain lines, then we make our loss as quickly as possible, for experience has taught us that the first loss is always the lightest. Our ambition ought to be satisfied for we are said, by those who are in a position to know, to be

SUNDAY CLOSING.

Alderman F. W. Steiglitz Speaks Out Boldly on the Vacillating Conduct of Columbia's City Conncil.

To The Editor of The State:-

A new fountain of wisdom has developed in the central portion of South Carolina. The Columbia city council has discovered that the laws of God are severe, unjust, unreasonable and the State law foolish, out-of-date and not suited to the present age-at least as Columbia is concerned. City councils have been inaugurated in Columbia term after term and none were wise enough to devise a plan to dismantle and order. It will be interesting to bout, do so again. The immeknow if the city council possesses such Realizing the folly, the weakness of the ordinance and its dangerous surround- again.—Yorkville Enquirer. ings, will he attach his name to it that it may become a law?

The action of council is to be deplored and is nothing short of disgraceful. A law that was handed down by God himself has been mocked at. A law adopted by our legislature has been. abused, amended so as to make it of no effect in part. In such a transaction are the councilmen upholding the laws of our State first and foremost as they are sworn to do? Is there any middle ground? It appears very forcibly that it is a plain case of for against. There can be no middle ground. The council has acted. It has played miserable part. The police commission are in full possession of the law and are, too, sworn to uphold the law. When a state law and city ordinance conflict on the same point, which is the stronger, the better, the safer law? Let the people of Columbia who love the law, who honor God, who will protect the law, support the commission in a work worthy of man's most energetic assistance and encouragement.
